Dear Mayor Mark Sager and Council,

I am writing this letter on behalf of myself as a Resident and Owner at [Redacted] s. 22(1) West Vancouver and additionally, [Redacted] s. 22(1) in West Vancouver [Redacted] s. 22(1); and on behalf of [Redacted] s.22(1), West Vancouver and my [Redacted] s.22(1), West Vancouver.

I have recently been aware a few residences in the neighborhood of 3000 Park Lane are not happy with the possible closure of a never used beach stair access trail and empty lot. I have also learned there are several other beach access trails within minutes of 3000 Park Lane that can be used anytime with much better access and parking.

As a long time West Vancouver resident that lives in the neighborhood, I strongly suggest to Mayor Mark Sager and Council they act financially prudent and sell the property for the for the financial benefit of all West Vancouver residences not just a few people concerned about using a never used beach trail.

Your Truly,

Dear Mayor Mark Sager, West Vancouver District Council, CAO and admin staff,
 For my 3rd year I will have a booth at the Trade Show at UBCM 2024:
"An Anti Human Trafficking Initiative." Booth 522.

Please visit.
 My new book is available:
"Child Sex Trafficking in Canada and How to Stop It", for $30.
 And two new booklets available:
"Strategies for the Indigenous" and "Strategies for Public Health Providers" to stop sexual exploitation, for $5 each.
 (Orders of 10 or more copies are $4 each).
 I will also have hard copy brochures available that overview the issue. (attached)

BC is the furthest behind every province in Canada in addressing human sex trafficking.
 Organized crime and international crime syndicates are taking advantage of the lack of deterrence, aggressively targeting youth, children and the vulnerable online, with the goal of meeting victims in person.

Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario all have Human Trafficking task forces with strategies while BC does not.
 BC lacks any provincial public awareness campaign although a new BC Human Trafficking Prevention Network has begun, sponsored by Shell Canada, Lieutenant Governor General.

My work has spanned over 45 years since being an inner city high school teacher and I have been presenting full time for the past ten years.

Note: I have mailed hard copy packages to all 60 BC School Boards to warn them that gang recruitment, drug and sex trafficking is happening in schools all over B.C.
 This needs to be stopped.

ASK: Please contact me for further information or presentations.
 Please check out my updated website. beamazingcampaign.org

ASK: Please confirm you have received this email and that the Mayor and Council have received it.

Strategies to prevent human trafficking and sexual exploitation.

Strategies for Parents: The TRUST Model

- T Talk with your youth about what influences them.
- R Relationships and helping them to identify healthy ones.
- U Understanding and empathy to reach your youth.
- S Security, stability, and safety are needed at home.
- T Teach children about grooming, luring, boundaries, and how to report such instances.

To complement the TRUST model and in order for prevention education to be impactful and effective, here are answers to two key questions posed by today's youth.

What is a healthy relationship?

A healthy relationship exudes kindness, trust, courtesy, consideration, honesty, reliability, equality, good communication, and acceptance. Knowing your own boundaries and being able to communicate them, plus respecting the decisions and boundaries of others. It allows you to be yourself and to feel supported and encouraged by the other person. Violence is never okay in a healthy relationship.

Who is a safe adult?

A genuine and kind person who expects nothing in return, a safe adult encourages you to maintain and grow healthy relationships with friends, family, and peers. They encourage you to achieve your goals and dreams, to be well and be your best. If you need help, a safe adult will assist you with contacting the proper authorities.

Strategies for Communities and Provinces

Reduce demand, diminish supply. Address complicit businesses such as unregistered massage and body rub parlours, nail spas, day spas, wellness centres, modelling agencies, tattoo parlours, escort services, cheap bars and hotels, men's clubs, AirBnB, VRBO, casinos, strip clubs, organized crime club houses, bus stops, train stations, homeless camps, tent cities, work camps, pool halls, community centres, and wherever youth congregate.

Keep schools safe because they have become recruiting grounds for gangs and human trafficking. There is growing research that some school personnel are involved with sexual interference with students (source: Cybertip.ca).

Strategies for the Public

Learn, share, alert. Learn about the issue. Share it with others. Alert your politicians that sexual exploitation must stop.

“Sexual trauma is the deepest form of trauma a human being can experience.”

Human sex trafficking and sexual exploitation for the purpose of prostitution is the fastest growing crime in the world. It is a lucrative crime targeting our youth, children, and the vulnerable.

Stopping Human Trafficking and Sexual Exploitation

Stopping Human Trafficking and Sexual Exploitation

Human trafficking is the recruiting, transporting, transferring, receiving, holding, concealing, harbouring, or exercising control over a person for the purpose of sexual exploitation, and—in conjunction with prostitution—is the fastest growing crime in the world. Canada is a child sex tourism destination with Vancouver, Toronto, and Montreal as the nation's trafficking hotspots.

This form of modern-day slavery has low costs and huge profits, making it a lucrative crime that targets our youth, children, and the vulnerable.

Who are the victims?

Trafficked victims are typically female but due to popularity of online gaming sites, now include a growing number of boys. Because traffickers look for vulnerability, their targets are people 30 years of age and younger.

Who are the traffickers?

Traffickers are dominantly male with recent trends revealing a growing number of females. They are highly organized, sophisticated, move fast; and typically, organized crime and even sometimes family members are involved.

Who are the buyers?

Male buyers are the root cause of the harm caused by human trafficking; they come from all ages and demographics and are criminally charged.

What factors cause human trafficking?

There are four primary factors contributing to the problem: globalization, unregulated technology, limited law enforcement, and minimal prevention education.

“Human trafficking is a form of trauma that when you understand what people are going through and what is being done to them, it is true evil.”

— DR. JACQUI LINDER
SURVIVOR, REGISTERED PSYCHOLOGIST, TRAUMATOLOGIST

General Statistics

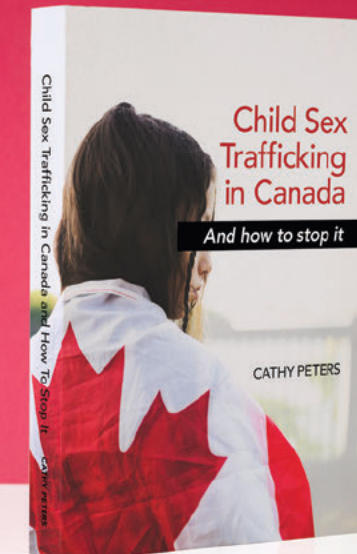

- The average age of recruitment is 13 years, and that age is lower in urban centres.
- At 50–90%, Indigenous women and girls are severely over-represented.
- A vast majority of victims have experienced childhood sexual abuse and/or incest.
- Most of the trafficked survivors live with complex post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD).
- 95% of prostituted victims want to leave the sex industry; it is neither a choice nor a job.
- As many as 99% of prostituted persons are either pimped or trafficked; it is a lucrative crime for traffickers.
- Only 1–5% of prostituted individuals are able to leave the sex industry. The majority become mentally ill, drug addicted, commit suicide, or are murdered.

Human Trafficking Indicators

Aside from a “gut feeling” from parents, teachers, and service providers that something is wrong, the following character traits and situations have been observed as linked to an individual who is being trafficked:

Has a fake ID, owns few personal possessions, does not speak for themselves, owes a debt, is not free to come and go, displays signs of malnutrition and poor hygiene, shows signs of physical abuse with bruises, broken bones, or black eyes, has tattoos or branding symbols, wears expensive clothing, accessories, or jewelry they cannot afford, has well-kept nails and/or lashes, is fearful, anxious, depressed, nervous, isolated, or paranoid, displays memory loss, suffers drug and alcohol addiction, avoids eye contact, has a new circle of friends, grades dropping, a change in attitude towards school, activities and friends, skips school, is exhausted, has two phones, wears inappropriate or provocative clothing, has an older partner, is involved in gang or criminal activity, fears for safety, is secretive.

Human Trafficking and the Law

The Federal Protection of Communities and Exploited Persons Act (PCEPA) works and needs to be consistently enforced in Canada. In summary, the PCEPA:

- Criminalises both the buyers and profiteers of sex.
- Protects the sellers from prosecution and provides immunity from criminalisation.
- Provides exit strategies to assist trafficked victims out of the sex industry.
- Offers robust prevention education.

Disturbing Trends to Note

- Sexting is being normalised, sextortion is increasing.
- Online grooming, luring, and recruiting for the sex industry is increasing.
- An increase in the sexualisation of youth/children.
- Increased childhood sexual assault/incest, and child-on-child sexual assault.
- Females are experiencing a decreased number of safe spaces.
- Pornography is the fuel for trafficking and is unchecked.
- A lack of digital safety training, social media accountability, and positive parenting support.
- The unchecked development of artificial intelligence (AI).

To Mayor and Council.

The effectiveness of West Vancouver's fuel thinning program is under question as result of a peer reviewed study - Millikin, R.L.; Braun, W.J.; Alexander, M.E.; Fani, S. The Impact of Fuel Thinning on the Microclimate in Coastal Rainforest Stands of Southwestern British Columbia, Canada. Fire 2024, 7, 285.

BLOCKEDdoj[.]org/10[.]3390/fire7080285BLOCKED

As Council knows I have questioned the effectiveness and value of this logging program since it started operations in 2022. Now we have a peer-reviewed study of a similar program done in Whistler that raises the very same concerns. The half million dollars that West Vancouver taxpayers are paying this fall may actually be increasing the risk of wildfire. What a profound waste of money. Meantime staff have failed to proceed with a rapid detection program that would have cost far less than the half million dollars, yet would have provided very real protection on a much longer time frame. The quicker you detect a fire, the easier it is to suppress at less cost and with less damage.

I urge Council to put an immediate halt to the program spending for this fall based on the peer-reviewed study published in the Journal "Fire" on August 14, 2024 (cited above). The conclusions of the study apply specifically to the Coastal Western Hemlock biogeoclimactic zone that the North Shore is located in. When I was on the West Vancouver Environment Committee, staff presented a study of Logan Lake in the interior to justify their planning even though this interior stand is in a completely different biogeoclimactic zone where fire is an established part of its ecology. The coast is completely different and this is the first independent study to assess the effectiveness of these costly fuel reduction programs on our coastal forest type which is very different to most of BC.

I believe the Provincial government has been remiss in pushing these kind of programs on the coast. I believe their motivation may be political in that it provides an excuse to log forest that the public does not want logged because of high recreation and conservation values. The fact that the provincial government is enthusiastically promoting these programs within municipalities may be their way to create forestry jobs and provide fibre to mills for those communities that have to sell the wood to help pay for the programs.

I urge you to put this program on hold until the science is clear on whether this program has any effectiveness in the Coastal Western Hemlock zone or whether West Vancouver taxpayers are actually paying a high financial cost with no benefit or making matters worse.

AUGUST 2024 NEWSLETTER

@patrickbweiler patrick.weiler@parl.gc.ca

Dear Mayor and Council,

August was a month for celebrations from Squamish Loggersports, Vancouver Pride, the Sechelt Writers Festival, the Slow Food Cycle, Bowfest, the Dundarave Hoe Down, and so much more. As we get ready for the fall, the end of summer holidays, back to school and the beginning of the parliamentary session, I want to thank everyone for taking the time to engage with me at community events and otherwise on a variety of issues over the summer. Your feedback is vital to help me advocate for our priorities in Ottawa.

If you haven't had a chance to connect, I encourage you to join me for our annual End of Summer Community BBQ at Horseshoe Bay Park on Saturday, September 14. We'll have food and refreshment on hand. This is a great opportunity to meet your neighbours and community members and chat with me about any issues you'd like me to advance. Details are below.

I announced a series of investments totaling $322,701 for 14 community-based projects across West Vancouver-Sunshine Coast-Sea to Sky Country that help seniors stay socially

connected in their community. I made the announcement with Sea to Sky Community Services, highlighting their Lunch and Learn program and 10 year anniversary of the Better at Home program.

Finally – if you haven't already seen it, I encourage you to watch this explainer video below where I discuss the state of housing in Whistler, and how our government is working to make housing more affordable through partnerships with local organizations. This is the first in a series of videos I hope to produce on priorities in our riding. If you have a suggestion for a video, let me know!

As always, if you ever have a question or want to connect, please don't hesitate to reach out.

Federal Government Updates

Announcing the Canada Public Land Bank

Canada is facing a housing crisis that is impacting lives and communities across the country. We need to build more homes, faster, to get Canadians into homes that meet their needs, at prices they can afford.

On August 25, 2024, the Government of Canada announced a new tool for builders called the Canada Public Land Bank, the first step under the new Public Lands for Homes Plan. The Canada Public Land Bank features 56 federal properties that have been identified as being able to support housing, including 5 new properties now intended for leasing and ready for builders to submit their proposals.

We are leveraging federal land to help with the housing crisis, another step in our government's plan to ensure everyone has an affordable place to call home. Stay tuned for more details as this list grows.

Changes to the Temporary Foreign Workers Program

The Temporary Foreign Worker (TFW) Program is designed as an extraordinary measure to be used only when qualified Canadians and permanent residents are not able to fill job vacancies.

Changes were made to the program at the height of the pandemic when Canada had record low unemployment, and massive labour shortages. The circumstances have changed considerably today as the slack in the labour market has subsided and there are many qualified Canadians to be hired. As such, effective September 26, 2024:

- The Government of Canada will refuse to process Labour Market Impact Assessments (LMIAs) in the Low-Wage stream in areas with an unemployment rate of 6% or higher. Exceptions will be granted for seasonal and non-seasonal jobs in food security sectors, as well as construction and healthcare.
- Employers will be allowed to hire no more than 10% of their total workforce through the TFW Program.
- The maximum duration of employment for workers hired through the Low-Wage stream will be reduced to one year (from two years).

Constituency Updates

Join us for our 2024 End of Summer Community BBQ

Join me on Saturday, September 14 at Horseshoe Bay Park from 11:00am-2:00pm for an End of Summer Community BBQ. Food and refreshments will be served.

This is a great opportunity to get to know your neighbours and fellow constituents, and connect with me in-person to chat about our riding and what you'd like me to focus on as we gear up for the return of the parliamentary session.

Please register by emailing Patrick.Weiler@parl.gc.ca

Announcing investments to support seniors through the New Horizons for Seniors Program

This week, I was thrilled to celebrate ten years of the Better at Home program with Squamish seniors and announce an investment of $23,300 to the Sea to Sky Community Services Society through the New Horizons for Seniors Program for their Lunch & Learn program which promotes social participation and financial support workshops.

Through the New Horizons for Seniors Program, we have invested over $322,000 for over a dozen projects across West Vancouver-Sunshine Coast-Sea to Sky Country, providing a wide range of opportunities for seniors in our community to participate in meaningful activities where they can share knowledge, skills and experience to the benefit of others. From supporting in-home care, to programs that teach home and digital literacy skills, and funding to help with heat pump installations, we are ensuring that organizations can continue to deliver these vital services while promoting healthy aging for seniors.

Announcing New Childcare Centres across British Columbia

West Vancouver and Pemberton are getting 177 new childcare spaces due in part to a $70 million investment from the federal Child Care Infrastructure Fund investment, in partnership with the Province of British Columbia. This funding will ensure more families can now pursue opportunities and provide children with vital learning experiences. The details are below:

Pemberton

The Board of Education of School District 93 (Conseil scolaire francophone)
Garderie de l'école La Vallée: 61 spaces (12 spaces for infant-toddler, 25 spaces for 30-month to kindergarten age, 24 spaces for school-age care on school grounds)

West Vancouver

The Board of Education of School District 45 (West Vancouver)
TBD Elementary school: 116 spaces (36 spaces for infant-toddlers, 50 spaces for 30-month to kindergarten, 30 spaces for school-age care on school grounds)

Making the Switch to a Heat Pump

British Columbians are seeing firsthand the costly impacts of more frequent and intense extreme weather events fueled by climate change. That is why the federal government is making it easier to green retrofit your home. We announced a federal investment of $103.7 million from Canada's Low Carbon Economy Fund (LCDF) and the Oil to Heat Pump Affordability (OHPA) program to support climate action in British Columbia and help low-and middle-income British Columbians reduce their energy costs. Heat pumps are part of hitting our climate goals because homes and buildings create about 10% of Canada's carbon emissions. Check out this page to learn more.

I had a very informative meeting with a member of the Sunshine Coast Community Solar Association, which included very impressive local examples of the financial benefits and air quality improvements for homes and businesses after installing a heat pump. Stay tuned for a flyer with more information on making the switch to a heat pump which will be delivered on doorsteps in the next few weeks.

Squamish Days Loggers Sports Festival

I started August by attending the 67th Annual Squamish Days Loggers Sports Festival. Every year the town gets together for this tradition, and I was lucky to partake again. For those of you who were able to make it to the Kettle Boil Challenge, Lumberjack Chili Cook-Off and Sunday morning Peter Harris Pancake Breakfast, it was great seeing and connecting with you. Congratulations to the amazing team of volunteers who put their hearts into making this festival unforgettable every year.

Meeting with Bowen Island Canada Summer Jobs students

It is always a pleasure to meet with the recipients of federal Canada Summer Jobs funding, both to meet the youth hires and learn about the organizations benefitting from the program. I visited the Bowen Island Museum to learn about the improvements to accessibility that are being made in their archives. On Bowen Island, I also met with the Bowen Island Children's Centre Society to see firsthand the great service they are offering to the community and fun activities that were planned for the children.

Celebrating the Sechelt Writers Festival

I want to acknowledge the outstanding Sunshine Coast Festival of the Written Arts, which has become the longest running literary festival with the mandate to present Canadian writers exclusively. I also want to congratulate Howard White, Publisher of Harbour Publishing in Maderia Park. Harbour Publishing, located in Madeira Park is celebrating their 50th anniversary.

I want to acknowledge the Tribute to Bev Shaw that was included in this year's event agenda. I remember going to Tailwind Books when I was a kid living on the Coast and it was always an adventure. I can only imagine how difficult it must have been this year without her energy and light. Congratulations to everyone involved in making this a memorable event for all to enjoy.

Crime and Safety on the Sunshine Coast

On August 21, two hundred residents filled a packed Sechelt Senior's Activity Centre to participate in Sechelt's community meeting on crime and safety, which was held at the request of several Sechelt residents. The overall message from the District of Sechelt and RCMP was an important one: "We are hear to listen" and "we are all in this together". I was at one of the dialogue tables, and for me it was an opportunity to hear from residents first-hand about their concerns and also their solutions on this critical issue.
